

Labor Law

Content

Our Labor Law area seeks to structure labor relations between employers and workers in such a way that the interests of our clients are protected.

We seek to support our clients in the following:

-  Structuring of labor relations.
-  Analysis of labor consultations on real contracts or other contracts related to
-  Preparation of employment contracts, employer substitutions and the correct settlement of worker social benefits.
-  Representation and advice in processes before the UGPP.
-  Structuring and drafting of internal work regulations.
-  Support in disciplinary processes.

Questions

How to deal with different issues between employers and workers.

How to identify when obliged to contribute to social security and on what basis, or when faced with a verbal work contract.

Structuring of work and service provision contracts, fees, their subscription and fulfillment.